

Seña Valle de Aconcagua, Chili 98 pnt James Suckling, 96 Points Luis Gutiérrez, Robert Parker's Wine Advocate Aconcagua Region - Chili

The exceptional conditions of the 2019 vintage resulted in an outstanding vintage in Seña 2019, as described by Francisco Baettig, Seña's Technical Director: "Seña 2019" shows complexity on the nose with red and black fruits aromas and a distinctive freshness. On the palate, the wine shows blueberry pie and cassis cream notes whilst brimming with fresh-picked red and black fruits. Seña 2019 is a very elegant wine, with great structure, complexity and depth - with notable freshness and polished tannins.

Proefnotitie

Luis Gutiérrez for Robert Parker's placed it as the best Bordeaux-blend at the top of the hierarchy in his latest report Chile: Current Releases: "I have to highlight the great work Francisco Baettig is doing with the incredibly elegant and floral release from Seña. They are producing more elegant wines than ever, and this 2019 is a real triumph for the vintage (?) This is incredibly elegant, subtle and harmonious even at this early stage. It has floral aromas, notes of orange peel, a touch of creamy sweet spices and great freshness. The palate is medium-bodied, seamless and pure, with pungent flavors and a soft texture. It's long, clean, devined and super tasty. I feel this wine is getting better and better by the vintage".

James Suckling, on his side described it as: "the best of 2019 also came with intrigue and polish (?) Such beautiful aromas of crushed berries, currants, walnuts, allspice and nutmeg follow through to a full body with tight, ultra fine tannins that provide length and intensity. A finish of slightly dried cherries with wet earth, slate and stone. Chewy and fine-grained. A wine with soul and length. Give it time".

Eduardo Chadwick, President and Founder of Viña Seña, commented: "these are thrilling times for Seña, celebrating our 25th anniversary and the many milestones we have achieved as a prize to all our hard work and dedication. We are delighted to present this beautiful vintage 2019, which embodies the full potential in a wine of great balance, depth and elegance with a promising ageing potential. We toast to a new milestone in Seña's history and we invite you to be part of Seña's inspiring journey into the future".
